CONTENTS

OF

No. IV.

Art.		Page.
I.	Mohammed and the Arabian Empire, ...	515
	Mahomed: Darstellung des Einflusses seiner Glaubenslehre auf die Völker des Mittelalters. Von C. E. Oelsner. Frankfurt am Main, 1810.
	Life and Religion of Mohammed: Translated by J. L. Merrick. 12mo., Boston: Phillips, Sampson & Co.
II.	Methods for the Study of Language, ...	537
	Ollendorff's German Method. D. Appleton & Co.
III.	The Blouse in both Hemispheres, ...	591
	As represented by Rousseau and Franklin.
IV.	Poor-Laws, and the Sources of Poverty among us, .	581
	1. The State of the Poor. By Sir F. W. Eden. 3 vols. 4to. London, 1797.
	2. Considerations on the Poor Laws. By John Davison, M.A., Fellow of Oriel College.
	3. Fourth Annual Report of the Governors of the Alms-House. New-York, 1853.
V.	De Quincey, ...	606
	The Autobiography of an English Opium-Eater. Suspiria de Profundis. Historical and Critical Essays. The Cæsars, &c. Boston: Ticknor & Co.
VI.	Dominique Francois Arago.—An Academy of Sciences,	637
VII.	The Danubian Principalities and the War, ...	653

VIII. Contemporary Literature of the Last Three Months, 664

1. A Memorial of the Life and Labors of the Rev. Adoniram Judson. By Francis Wayland. 2 vols. Phillips, Sampson & Co.

2. The U. S. Grinnell Expedition in Search of Sir John Franklin. By Elisha Kent Kane, M. D., U. S. N. Harper & Brothers.

3. Golden Dreams and Leaden Realities. By Ralph Raven. G. P. Putnam & Co.

4. A Month in England. By Henry T. Tuckerman. J. S. Redfield.

5. The Second War with England. By J. T. Headley. 2 vols. Charles Scribner.

6. History of the City of New-York. By David T. Valentine. G. P. Putnam & Co.

7. Venice, the City of the Sea. By Edward Flagg. 2 vols. Charles Scribner.

8. God with Men; or, Footprints of Providential Leaders. By Samuel Osgood. Charles S. Francis & Co.

9. The Blood-Stone. By Donald MacLeod. Charles Scribner.

10. Clovernook. By Alice Carey. Second Series. Redfield.

11. The American Aboriginal Portfolio. By Mrs. Mary H. Eastman. Lippincott & Co.

12. An Index to Periodical Literature. By Wm. Fred. Poole. C. B. Norton.

13. Salad for the Solitary. By An Epicure. Lamport, Blakeman & Law.

14. Outlines of Comparative Philology. By M. Schele De Vere. G. P. Putnam & Co.

15. Little Ferns. By the author of "Fern Leaves." Derby & Miller.

16. Up the River. By F. W. Shelton. Chas. Scribner.

INDEX TO VOL. II.

American Poetry and the N. British Review, 71; Mr. Longfellow, ib.; Evangeline, 72; Golden Legend, 77; Psalm of Life, 78; Mr. Reed, Gray's Elegy, 81; Poe, and the Raven, 82; Mr. Bryant — Thanatopsis, his own, and not somebody else's, 84–92; No. British advice returned to itself, 93, 94.

Arago, Dominique François, 537; his early adventures in Africa, 638: his ambition, 640; his death, 642; his character and influence, and considerations on science among us, 640–652.

Astronomy and physics: the "magnetic crusade," 263; magnetometers, ib.; meteorological research, 264; aid from enlightened governments, 265; geological surveys of the last thirty years, 266; induction and deduction, 267; Herschel's discoveries, 269; discovery of the asteroids, 270; Kirkwood's Law, 271; Bessel's new method, ib.; progress in other departments of natural philosophy, 273; discovery of galvanism, electro-magnetism, undulatory theory of light, ib.; relation between light, heat, and electricity, trinity in unity, 274; optical discoveries, 275; progress in thermotics, 277.

Blouse in both Hemispheres, 561; Rousseau, his history and his books, 564–578; Franklin, 579, 580.

Cuban Question, the, 169; Mr. Soulè and his mission, ib.; more harmless at Madrid than at New-Orleans, 170; London Times and the Cuban question, 172; Cuba to be annexed to the United States, and Spain to Great Britain, 173; filibusters do not represent the real spirit of the country, 176; reasons why we should desire the honorable acquisition of Cuba, 177; its harbors, 178; its capabilities of internal intercourse, 179; its soil, 180; its timber, 181; its political condition, 182 et seq.; taxation, 187; social aspect, 188; the Catalonians, 188; Education, 189; religion, ib.; morality, 190; are the Cubans fit for freedom, 192; Cuba must come by purchase, 193.

De Quincey, Biographical Sketch, 608, 609; Nature of his mind and tone of his writings, 610, 611; Habit of digression, 612; his humor, 615; Imagination, 616; his dogmatism, 619; his admiration of Wordsworth, 621; scholarship, 621, 623; style, 626; amount and variety of his works, 627; relative position to his contemporaries, 630; colloquial powers, 632; impropriety of his "Confessions," 633; opium experiences, 634, 635.

Democracy, Athenian, 341; Attika, 343; Athenian citizenship, 345; not conferred on foreigners as a matter of right, 346; resident aliens, ib.; the slaves, 347; the Popular Assembly, 350; Council of Five Hundred, 354; Perikles, 355; the Judicial system, 356; the tenure of office, 359; Causes of the overthrow of Athens, 361; degradation of labor, ib.; nearness of the people to the public treasury, 363; unrestricted power of the Popular Assembly, 364; impurity of the religious system of Athens, 366.

Fishery Question, official documents relating to, 1; Mr. Everett to the President, ib.; Mr. Lawrence to Mr. Webster, 2, 9; Lord Malmesbury to Mr. Crampton, 5; Mr. Everett to Mr. Ingersoll, 10–25.

Flaxman's Outline Drawings; compositions from Hesiod, and from Dante, 95, et seq.

France, Rival Dynasties in, 25; what if we have a Bourbon among us, ib.; accession of Louis XVI., 26; causes of the Revolution, 26–28; from Louis XVI. to Bonaparte, 28; France under Bonaparte, 28, 9; his fall, and return of the Bourbons, 29; Louis XVIII. and Charles X., ib.; accession of Louis Philippe, 30; his flight in 1848, and the Republic, *31; Louis Napoleon and his fortunes, *31–*33; is elected President, *33; the coup-d'état, *34; present position of parties, *35, *36.

Judd, the late Rev. Sylvester, 278; Westhampton, 279; goes to Northampton, 285; enters the counting-room, 286; religious difficulties, 288; four persons in the Godhead, 290; converted under Rev. Mark Tucker, 293; settles at Augusta, 297; his home, ib.; "Margaret," 299; "Plato," 308; "Richard Edney," 309; passes away, 312.

Languages, methods of studying, 537; Ascham, 538; grammar and dictionary, 540; Interlinear Translations, 541; method of Locke, Milton, &c., 542; Dufief, 543; Lemare, 544; Jacotot, 546–556; Manesca, 557; Ollendorff, 559; the best way to learn a language, 560.

Las Casas, life of, 367; his early reputation, 370; goes to Cuba, ib.; his popularity with the Indians, 372, 373; comes into conflict with Narvaez, 374; the repartimientos, 376; Ovando, 378; deplorable condition of the Indians, 379; Montesino, and his preaching, 380; Las Casas returns to Spain, 384; Ximenes, 385; efforts at the Spanish court, 387; returns to St. Domingo, 388; his life threatened, 389; enters complaint against the justices of the island, ib.; goes again to Spain, 391; the real author of slavery in America, 393; Las Casas not infallible, 397; obtains the ordinance he asked, 398; repudiates the Council of the Indias and Bishop Fonseca, 399; the king hears both sides, ib.; Las Casas sails for the Pearl Coast, 401; disheartening intelligence, ib.; failure of plans, 404, 405; retires within his own order, 405; is called upon by the colonists to conciliate the natives, consents, and succeeds, 406; his new colony at Tuzulutlan, 407. et seq.; again at court, 414; new regulations for government of the Indians, sanctioned by Emperor, 418; again in St. Domingo, as bishop, 420; doomed again to disappointment, 425; returns to Spain for the last time, 426; again in controversy, 428, 429; his character, 430–32.

Mary Stuart, 237; Scotch love of independence, ib.; Mary's birth, 239; affianced to the Dauphin of France, 241; goes to the French court, ib.; her life and position there, 243, 244; her marriage, 244, 245; false play, 245; death of Henry II., 247; of Francis, 249; she returns to Scotland, 250; John Knox, 253, et seq.; trouble with Elizabeth, and negotiations for marriage, 258–60; marries Darnley, 261, 262.

Mohammed, and the Arabian Empire, 515–536.

Music a language, 228; all high arts similar, 229; universality of music, 230; its capacity to express every feeling, ib.; where lies the secret of its power, 231.

National music, 60; genius is God's interpreter, ib.; art is to interpret man, 61; is a Proteus, 62; Don Giovanni, ib.; Jenny Lind, ib.; Sontag, ib.; Gottschalk, 64; music's highest office to accompany, 65; music must be Christianized, ib.; art the handmaid of religion, 66; Plato on the fine arts as discipline, 67; the composer to come, 69.

Poor-Laws, 581; first ordinance of this kind, 1349, ib.; begging in olden times, 582, 583; punishments for vagrancy, 585; under Henry VIII. and Elizabeth, 586–588; increasing cost of maintenance of the poor in England, 589; the question in America, 594, 595; the pauper element a foreign one, 596–598; what will come of this mingling of blood, 598; danger from the vice and ignorance coming in with emigration, 599; nativism, 601; term of naturalization, 602; the German, 604.

Principalities, the Danubian, and the war, 653; the Slavonic people, ib.; the Servian, 654; Bulgaria, 655; Moldavia and Wallachia, 656; antecedents and probabilities of the present war, 659, et seq.

Randolph, John, Garland's Life of, 194; its political portions not to be praised, 195; vindication of Patrick Henry from its treatment, 195–216; Randolph's birth, history, and character, 222, et seq.

Science in America, 443; American Association for the Advancement of Science, 444; meeting at Philadelphia in 1848, 450; at Charleston, 1849, 457; at New Haven, 1850, 458; at Cincinnati, 1851, 461; at Albany, same year, 462.

Science, miscellanies in, 123; archæological discovery, ib.; hydrography, 124; geology, 125; zoology, ib.; botany, 126; ethnology, ib.; meteorology, 127; geography, 128; electric clocks, 129; miscellaneous, 129–134.
Sparta and the Dorians, 31; Grecian history, 31–38; Athens, 39; Sparta, 40; peninsula of Pelops, 41; the Akropolis, 42; outline of the Dorian conquest, 43–48; the Helots, 48; Lykurgos, 49; corner-stone of the Lykurgean constitution, 51; Grote's objections, 52, 53; scenery and relics of Lakonia, 54; the author's experiences there, 56, et seq.
Trees, 466; every species a distinctive feature of a landscape, 467; distinguished by peculiarities of habit, 469; food for poesy, 469, 470; American woodcraft, 471; variety among us, of trees, 472; age of trees, 476; laurel tree of Carolina, ib.; Peruvian bark, 480; their artistic interest, 481; their distribution, 482; various things about various trees, 483, 484.
Williams, Roger, life of, 135; few incidents of his history recorded, ib.; emigration and arrival at Boston, 137; founds a new colony, 137, 138; Rhode-Island a city of refuge, 139; Williams' intimacy with Fulton, ib.; loved by the Indians, 141; an apostle of toleration, 143.

CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE.

Adventures in Fairyland, Stoddard, 164; American Aboriginal Portfolio, 690; American Game in its Seasons, 338; Annabel, Elizabeth Wormley, 165; Anthon's Germania and Agricola, 509; Blake's Every-Day Scripture Readings, 327; Brace's Home-Life in Germany, 318; Bourbon Prince, the, 159; Bremer's Homes of the New World, 499; Brodhead's History of State of New-York, 144; Calhoun, J. C., Works of, 166; Carey's Handbook of Geography, 158; Carey's Slave Trade, 335; Carlotina and the Jesuits, 330; Chapel of the Hermits, &c., Whittier, 160; Clovernook, Alice Carey, 689; Cole, Thomas, Life and works of, Noble, 313; Cook, Harriet Newell, Memoirs of, Sigourney, 159; Correspondence of Dr. Chalmers, 514; Fasquelle's Colloquial French Reader, 511; Flagg's Venice, the City of the Sea, 685; Footpath and Highway, Moran, 157; God with Men, Osgood, 687; Golden Dreams and Leaden Realities, 681; Hallucinations, from the French of Brierre de Boismont, 512; Hamilton's Discussions on Philosophy, &c., 505; Harkness' Second Latin Book, 328; Hawthorne's Tanglewood Tales, 508; Headley's Second War with England, 684; Herbert's Roman Traitor, 507; Hildreth's Theory of Politics, 503; Hillard's Six Months in Italy, 489; Humorous Speaker, 510; Hundred Boston Orators, 513; Kane's U. S. Grinnell Expedition, 672; Kathman Slave, Emily Judson, 167; Law and the Testimony, the, 509; Layard's Discoveries in Ancient Nineveh, &c., 338; Legends of the West, 330; Little Ferns, 690; Lives of Brothers Humboldt, Bauer, 158; Lyell's Geology, 511; MacLeod's Blood-Stone, 689; New Rome, the, 331; Notabilities in France and England, 338; Old House by the River, 330; Old Man's Bride, Arthur, 329; One Year of Wedlock, 330; Outlines of Comparative Philology, 691; Philosophy of Sir Wm. Hamilton, 506; Poems by Alexander Smith, 328, 433–443; Poole's Index to Periodical Literature, 689; Robbins' Xenophon's Memorabilia, 328; Roland Trevor, 159; Ruth, by the Author of Mary Barton, 166; Salad for the Solitary, 691; Schoedler's Book of Nature, 511; Shelton's Up the River, 691; Simms' Egeria, 514; Smith, Alexander, Poems, 328, 433–443; Smith, E. P., Manual of Political Economy, 332; Songs of the Seasons, &c. Linen, 163; Spain, her Institutions, &c., Wallis, 152; Spalding's History of English Literature, 327; Tales of the Southern Border, Webber, 164; Thalatta, 328; Traces of the Roman and Moor, 502; Tuckerman's Memorial of Greenough, 486; Tuckerman's Month in England, 681; Valentine's History of the City of New-York, 685; Villette, Currer Bell, 165; Virginalia, Chivers, 161; Wayland's Memoir of Judson, 664; White, Red, and Black, Pulszky, 148; Woodbury's Elementary German Reader, 510; Woodworth's American Miscellany, 167, 510: Yusef, J. Ross Browne, 156.